NOTHING BUT THE WIN

THE WWF INVASION OF THE BRITISH ISLES

It's great to be back here in the British Isles! We at the World Wrestling Federation have been anticipating this tour for quite some time and, judging from your letters that I have received, you - the patrons of the United Kingdom and Ireland - Certainly have been waiting with bated breath for us.

Well, wait no further. All the excitement and action of the World Wrestling Federation has returned in grand style. Once again, you have the opportunity to see the superstars of the WWF engage each other in spectacular matches. Once again, you have the opportunity to feel the energy generated by such WWF greats as Ultimate Warrior, Hulk Hogan, Jake "The Snake" Roberts and Mr. Perfect, to name but a handful. What's more, you will also have the chance to cheer your hometown hero, the British Bulldog, who as many of you know, calls Leeds, England his place of residence.

The WWF Superstars will arrive in London on April 24th. From there, they head north to Glasgow, Scotland on the 25th and then across to the Emerald Island of the Atlantic, the next day, where the athletes will converge upon Belfast and Dublin on April 27th. The following day they will return to the UK and compete in Manchester. After a brief rest of the rigours of the ring, the WWF Superstars return to action on May 30th where they will battle each other fist and fire in the city of Birmingham and then, on May 1st, in Brighton. We trust that you have all heard the saying, "What goes around comes around". Well, this holds true for the WWF and its vast array of Superstars, because WWF action will come back to London on May 2nd at Wembley Arena for, what should turn out to be, a grand finale of sorts.

So, there you have it. WWF thrills, WWF spills and WWF excitement and delivered in a way as only the WWF can deliver it!

Jack Tunney
President of the World Wrestling Federation

ULTIMATE

WARRIOR

Name: Ultimate Warrior
Height: 6 foot 2 inches
Weight: 275 pounds
From: Parts unknown

One of the most unique individuals ever to enter the World Wrestling Federation, the former holder of the WWF Championship belt lost his cherished title in a controversial decision to Sgt. Slaughter at the 1991 Royal Rumble. The perfect fighting machine, the Warrior possesses one of the most powerful physiques - 275 pounds of chiselled granite resembling a Greek god - ever in the WWF. Combining this with the war paint covering his face and the pendants dangling from his massive arms and legs, makes the Ultimate Warrior a most imposing figure. As one of the strongest grapplers in the WWF, the Ultimate Warrior can combine power moves with exceptional speed and wrestling knowledge to achieve victory. As an example of his strength, the Warrior routinely presses his 300 pound opponents overhead as if they were weightless and then drops them face first on the mat. Living for battle and thriving for confrontation, the Ultimate Warrior calls on his legion of warriors to aid him in defeating his opponents.

SGT. SLA

Name: Sgt. Slaughter
Height: 6 foot 6 inches
Weight: 310 pounds
From: South Carolina

From his militaristic demeanour to his holier-than-thou attitude, Slaughter has shown the WWF a mean streak never before encountered. From the way Sgt. Slaughter wrestles, it's easy to understand the reasons he was booted out of the military. While in the service, Slaughter exhibited a degree of brutality never before witnessed by young recruits. He's the same way in the ring. Slaughter has taken on a manager, his "commanding officer", Iraqi General Adnan, who like Slaughter, is a man without pity for the weak. Since joining the World Wrestling Federation, the former drill instructor has rolled over the competition like a tank crushes underbrush. The brutal Slaughter takes pleasure in viciously beating his opponents - finishing several off by driving a crippling knuckle onto their temple.

WIGHTER

JAKE 'THE SNAKE' TH

Name: Jake "The Snake" Roberts
Height: 6 foot 5 inches
Weight: 249 pounds
From: Stone Mountain, Georgia

One of the top stars in the World Wrestling Federation, this wily ring veteran has a reputation for battling all comers and has maintained his place as a dangerous threat to every WWF title holder.

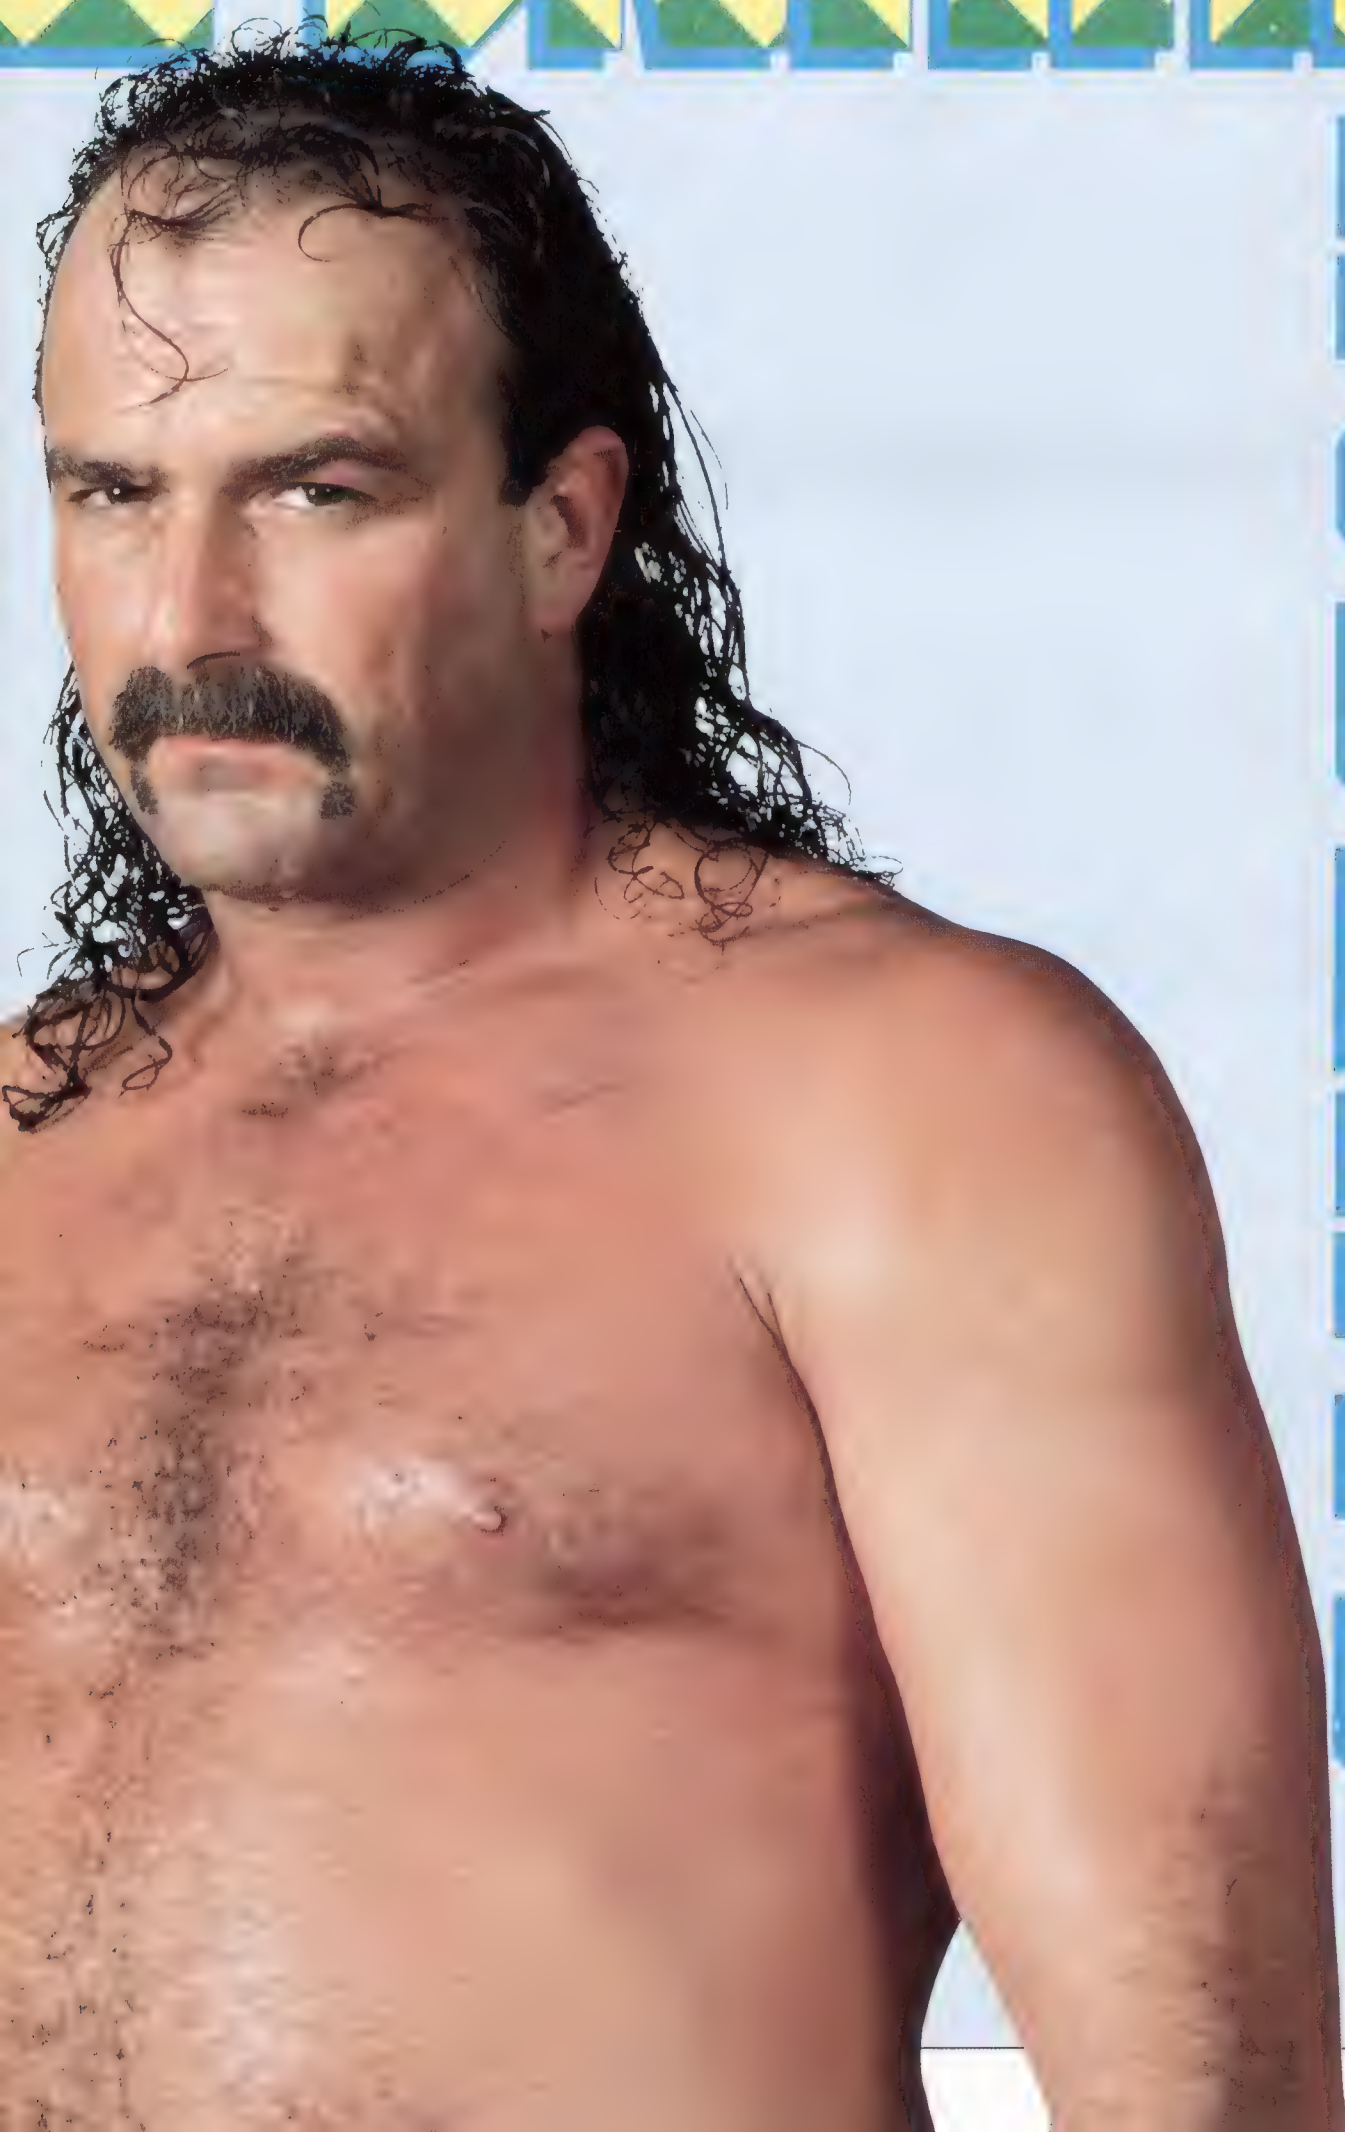

Capable of both scientific wrestling one minute and all-out brawling the next, the 6' 5", 249-pound Roberts combines strength and speed in the squared circle. As versatile as he is cunning, the Stone Mountain, Georgia native employs both psychological intimidation and his patented DDT to gain victory.

Although Roberts talks softly, his actions in the ring can speak volumes as he routinely destroys one opponent after another. Always accompanied by his pet python, Damian, who gets draped over beaten opponents, Roberts has established himself through hard work and determination as one of the most feared competitors in the WWF.

THE SWANK

TORNADO

Name: Texas Tornado
Height: 6 foot 2 inches
Weight: 254 pounds
From: Denton, Texas

After winning and losing the World Wrestling Federation's Intercontinental title in only a few months in the WWF, the Texas Tornado has shown to a fine competitive athlete capable of defeating anyone who dares enter the ring with him. Because of his quick success, he believes that he will continue to keep cruising along on his present winning track. After losing his coveted title to Mr., Perfect, with Million Dollar Man Ted DiBiase's outside interference, Texas Tornado has vowed to make wrongdoers pay for their indiscretions. Texas Tornado's mastery of wrestling fundamentals has also helped him in his steady rise to the top. Among his more respected tactics in his arsenal is a move he calls the twisting tornado punch. This haymaker of a roundhouse is the Texan's ace in the hole, and when applied after his crippling "claw" hold, the Tornado has the means available to overcome any competition. With his polished athleticism, agility, given wrestling talent and punishing ring tactics, the Texan Tornado could whirl upwards in the WWF ranks in the coming months.

Name: Mr. Perfect
Height: 6 foot
Weight: 257 pounds
From: Elk River, Minnesota

His name in itself tells the story. The impeccable one, Mr. Perfect, has stated time and time again that he is the only perfect athlete ever to grace the World Wrestling Federation. Reclaiming his coveted WWF Intercontinental Championship belt from the Texas Tornado, Mr. Perfect has shown time and time again that he is one WWF Superstar capable of getting exactly what he wants.

Led by his perfect manager, Bobby "The Brain" Heenan, Mr. Perfect uses his skill in all phases of wrestling to gain an advantage over his opponent. From complicated mat manoeuvres, to brawling power, to aerial mobility, Mr. Perfect knows it all inside out. His favourite finishing manoeuvre, the inescapable Perfect Plex, has been used repeatedly to secure a victory for Mr. Perfect. A man of titanic power, the "perfect one" has been determined to maintain his dominant position at the top of the WWF Intercontinental race.

Height:
6 foot 8 inches

Weight:
303 pounds

From:
Venice Beach,
California

Few public personalities can claim the notoriety and adulation bestowed upon World Wrestling Federations, 3 times champion legend Hulk Hogan, who is one of the most widely known figures in the world.

Crowds erupt with enthusiasm - "Hulkamania" - when he flexes his 24-inch biceps, or "pythons" after a victory or when he charges into a sold-out arena to the tune of "Real American."

Hulk first won the WWF title on January 24th, 1984 in New York's Madison Square Garden and proceeded to hold the title throughout much of the rest of the '80's and along the way, captured the imagination of the entire world. The most dominant wrestler of the decade, Hogan is the only WWF star ever to grace the cover of "Sports Illustrated," the bible of athletics.

Probably the most popular wrestler ever, Hogan is admired by adults and idolised by children and he returns their affections by encouraging his "little Hulksters" to "train, say your prayers, take your vitamins and believe in yourself."

Hogan's wrestling skills have been seen by record audiences, both live and on television, and Hogan has also starred in two full-length motion pictures, "No Holds Barred," released in June of 1989 and "Suburban Commando" to be released in June 1991.

BRITISH

Name: The British Bulldog
Height: 5 foot 11 inches
Weight: 275 pounds
From: Leeds, England

The British Bulldog, once a co-holder of the World Wrestling Federation tag team title, returned in triumphant style to the ring and proceeded to sink his teeth into the WWF's best competition. Possessing one of the most devastating running powerslams in the WWF, The British Bulldog has used this overwhelming manoeuvre to destroy the will of several of the WWF's top superstars. Using the wealth of experience at his disposal, he combines his ring expertise with the explosive moves to systematically dismantle opponents. With the tremendous athleticism and power the Bulldog possesses, many superstars in the WWF have decided to let sleeping dogs lie, knowing they won't be able to handle his attack in the squared circle. The heavily muscled Bulldog, adept at fitness wrestling or brawling manoeuvres, has decided it's his turn to take a bite out of anyone who dares enter the ring with him.

ROWDY RO

DDY PIPER

One of the most unpredictable Superstars in the World Wrestling Federation, Rowdy Roddy Piper has a well-deserved reputation for being a feisty competitor in the ring and out. Piper, famous for his Scottish kilts and bagpipe music, as well as his "Hot Rod" t-shirt, has recently joined WWF announcer Vince McMahon as the colour analyst of the nationally-syndicated television programme, "WWF Superstars of Wrestling." His vibrant, sometimes flamboyant, personality has added a new dimension to the popular television programme. Despite his handsome, devilish smile, Piper is one of the WWF's most dangerous and unpredictable competitors. Also known to have a hot temper, Piper is someone who will do whatever it takes to come out ahead of his opponent. Piper took a short retirement to pursue an acting career in Hollywood, starring in the hit motion picture, "They Live," yet returned triumphantly to the WWF and maintained his rightful place near the pinnacle of the competition. The cagey ring veteran has persevered through a long career in the WWF, proving that he will go down in the record books as one of the WWF's all-time bests.

MILLION DOLLAR

Name: Million Dollar Man Ted DiBiase
Height: 6 foot 3 inches
Weight: 260 pounds
From: Seasonal Residence

"Everybody has a price for the Million Dollar Man," is a declaration made repeatedly by the "wealthiest man in the World Wrestling Federation," Ted DiBiase. To prove his point, DiBiase has attempted to flaunt his wealth in the faces of some of the WWF's top superstars.

After an unsuccessful attempt at buying the WWF Championship belt, the Million Dollar Man had a belt made, from the finest gold and diamonds, exclusively for him. His "Million Dollar Belt" stands as a symbol of his mat superiority and extraordinary wealth.

Despite his massive net worth, the Million Dollar Man is a very hard worker between the ropes, using his impressive strength and agility to his advantage. A brilliant ring technician, his opponents often feel his wrath when they become entangled in his patented sleeperhold, "The Million Dollar Dream." Once asleep, the unlucky opponent is often subjected to the ultimate humiliation of having a hundred dollar bill shoved into his mouth by DiBiase. Charity, however only goes so far as he retrieves the bill from his fallen victim.
